

Video Vignettes from I'm Still Here!
(on living with dementia)

The stage play I'm Still Here! is a research-based performance that improves understanding about the stages of the dementia journey from early onset to long-term care. First presented in 2006, it has engaged more than a hundred caregiver and community audiences throughout North America.

The Video Vignettes from I'm Still Here! has have been developed for Zoom webinars and meetings.

Don Baker, producer of the Vignettes will give us a behind the scenes look at why and how these 16 minutes of vignettes were produced during Covid-19 by 20 seasoned performers from act2studioWORKS – all of whom are over 50 years of age.

The videos are followed by a live talkback session during which you may wish to share your experiences and questions with Don and an expert on dementia.

September 7, 2021 from 10:00am – 11:00am

TO REGISTER CLICK HERE

act2studioWORKS is a not-for-profit theatre production and touring company focusing on Health and Later Life issues, partnering with Ryerson University's Estelle Craig ACT II STUDIO